James (Jim) Charles Martin was born in Tocumwal in southern N.S.W. to Charles and Amelia Martin, their only son and brother to 5 sisters. At the outbreak of W.W.1 James was a member of the school cadets, and after his father was rejected on medical grounds, James said "do not worry Dad I will go instead", if you wont let me go I will run away and join up under another name.

Charles and Amelia after much discussion gave their consent to James to enlistment. After initial training at Broadmeadows training camp James boarded the troop ship 'Berrima' on route to Egypt for further training.

He was then boarded the troop ship 'Southlander' on route to Gallipoli the ship was torpedoed by a German submarine and James spent some hours in the water until picked up by a French Red cross patrol boat and taken to Mudros Island and then onto Gallipoli .

On landing at Gallipoli James and his company were stationed at 'Courtneys Post' one of the most dangerous places on the peninsula.

Due to the intense heat, flies, poor sanitary conditions and the stench on the battlefield James developed typhoid and lost nearly half his body weight. He was taken aboard the hospital ship 'Glenart Castle" and cared for by Matron Reddick. He asked the matron 'will I recover she said we will have you up and about in no time..

James died at 6.40am on the 25th October 1915 and was buried at sea by chaplain Reverend Barker. James was only 14yrs and 9months at the time of his death. His few personal items which included his 'aluminium dog tag' some letters, money belt and his new testament were returned to his mother Amelia.

Extract from Eileen Mahoney's poem 'In Waters Deep':

In ocean waters no poppies grow
No crosses stand in ordered row
There young hearts sleep beneath the waves
The spirited, the good the brave
But stars a constant keep
For them that lie beneath the deep.
Tis true you cannot kneel to pray.
On certain spot and think he's here
But you can to the ocean's go,
Can dry your tears and pray for those,
Who rest beneath the heaving seas.

Lest we forget

REMEMBRANCE SUNDAY

SENTENCE:

○ Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Matthew 5.10

PRAYER OF THE DAY:

We praise you heavenly Father,
that you have knit together your chosen ones
in one communion and fellowship
in the body of your Son, Jesus Christ our Lord:
give us grace so to follow your blessed saints in all virtuous and godly living that we may come to those inexpressible joys you have prepared for those who truly love you;
through Jesus Christ our Saviour,
who with you and the Holy Spirit lives and reigns,
one God, in glory everlasting. Amen

FIRST READING

Isaiah 65. 17-25

A reading from the book of Isaiah

¹⁷For I am about to create new heavens and a new earth; the former things shall not be remembered or come to mind. ¹⁸But be glad and rejoice forever in what I am creating; for I am about to create Jerusalem as a joy, and its people as a delight. ¹⁹I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and delight in my people; no more shall the sound of weeping be heard in it, or the cry of distress. ²⁰No more shall there be in it an infant that lives but a few days, or an old person who does not live out a lifetime; for one who dies at a hundred years will be considered a youth, and one who falls short of a hundred will be considered accursed. ²¹They shall build houses and inhabit them; they shall plant vineyards and eat their fruit. ²²They shall not build and another inhabit; they shall not plant and another eat; for like the days of a tree shall the days of my people be, and my chosen shall long enjoy the work of their hands. ²³They shall not labour in vain, or bear children for calamity; for they shall be offspring blessed by the Lord— and their descendants as well. ²⁴Before they call I will answer, while they are yet speaking I will hear. ²⁵The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, the lion shall eat straw like the ox; but the serpent—its food shall be dust! They shall not hurt or destroy on all my holy mountain, says the Lord. .

Hear the word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

PSALM 34 . 1-10, 22

- 1 I will bless the Lord continually:
his praise shall be always in my mouth.
- 2 Let my soul boast of the Lord:
the humble shall hear it and rejoice.
- 3 O praise the Lord with me:
let us exalt his name together.
- 4 For I sought the Lord's help and he answered:
and he freed me from all my fears.
- 5 Look towards him and be bright with joy:
your faces shall not be ashamed.
- 6 Here is a wretch who cried, and the Lord heard me:
and saved me from all my troubles.
- 7 The angel of the Lord encamps round those who fear him:
and delivers them in their need.
- 8 O taste and see that the Lord is good:
happy are they that hide in him!
- 9 Fear the Lord, all you his holy ones:
for those who fear him never lack.
- 10 Lions may suffer want and go hungry:
but those who seek the Lord lack nothing good.
- 22 The Lord ransoms the lives of his servants:
and none who hide in him will be destroyed.

SECOND READING

1 John 3. 1-3

A reading from the first book of John ³See what love the Father has given us, that we should be called children of God; and that is what we are. The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know him. ²Beloved, we are God's children now; what we will be has not yet been revealed. What we do know is this: when he is revealed, we will be like him, for we will see him as he is.

³And all who have this hope in him purify themselves, just as he is pure.

Hear the word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

The Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according Matthew Chapter 5 commencing at verse 1.

Glory to you Lord Jesus Christ

¹When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up the mountain; and after he sat down, his disciples came to him. ²Then he began to speak, and taught them, saying: ³“Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. ⁴“Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted. ⁵“Blessed are the meek, for they will inherit the earth. ⁶“Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled. ⁷“Blessed are the merciful, for they will receive mercy. ⁸“Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God. ⁹“Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God. ¹⁰“Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness’ sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. ¹¹“Blessed are you when people revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. ¹²Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you. known, so that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them.’

Praise to you Lord Jesus Christ.

COMFORT IN SORROW Rose-Marie Sutherland

There is no bitterness in sorrow,
Only an unalterable regret,
A tender-sweet and piercing sadness;
That those loved by us, and dear,
Have passed beyond this sphere
Of sight and touch ... how strange it is ... and yet
Our hearts can still be filled with gladness.
We do not walk alone, unaided,
Without a hand to clasp, a voice to calm;
Though there be heartbreak now, and tears;
For ever at our side, Jesus, the Crucified
Gives strength and comfort, and this tender balm
Is with us through the passing of the years.

TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

The words of the gospel are a challenge not only to people such as myself (who professionally do wear long robes!), but to all of us who are likely to have status in some form or other. The poor widow gave out of her poverty. And all of us before God have nothing except what God has given us.

- ✦ May we be like the widow, giving generously from our hearts, rather than sharing a few crumbs of the abundance God has given us.
- ✦ Give thanks for the work and witness of the Episcopal Church of Jerusalem and the Middle East
